THE SOLEMN BELLS TOLL A REQUIEM

All Petersburg Is Dazed By The Awful Blow Struck.

News Eagerly Sought---Japan Claims Her Ships Sank
The Petropavlovsk.

OTHER RUSSIAN SHIPS ARE REPORTED SUNK

IS STILL A MYSTERY.
London, April 14—The military and naval experts here are unanimously of the opinion that the real circumstances attendant on the blowing up of the battleship Petropavlovsk at Port Arthur, has not been revealed. When the veil is lifted it will probably be seen that some watchful Japanese struck the blow.

RUSSIAN SHIPS DAMAGED.
St. Petersburg, April 14—An official dispatch relative to the engagement between the Russian and Japanese fleets at Port Arthur Wednesday states that the Russian battleship Pobeda was struck and a large hole torn in her side and the Japanese also surrounded and sunk the torpedo boat Vestrashni. Fifty boats and the crew were saved.

DESOLATE IN PETERSBURG.
St. Petersburg, April 14—The aspect of the city today is of a most desolate type. A driving snow storm is prevailing and the covering on the ground is in harmony with the sadness depicted on human faces everywhere. A majority of the people learned of the disaster at Port Arthur of the sinking of the battleship Petropavlovsk, sending nearly eight hundred people to watery graves by the tolling of bells early this morning. The newspapers brought details of the catastrophe and even the most ignorant bought them and implored passersby to read them aloud.

BOMBARDED FORTS.
London, April 14—The Globe prints a Shanghai dispatch which states that news has been received there to the effect that Wednesday morning five Japanese warships engaged the Russian cruiser Bayan, off Port Arthur, but with the assistance of the cruiser Askani and another cruiser the Bayan was able to reach the shelter of the fort in a somewhat damaged condition. The Japanese afterwards bombarded the forts for a short time.

JAPAN SAYS SHE DID IT.
Tokio, April 14—According to a dispatch received from Admiral Utsuno today the Russian battleship Petropavlovsk was sunk by the Japanese and not by a Russian mine. The Utsuno's report says that Admiral Togo's fleet sunk a battleship and one destroyer. There were no Japanese losses.

FALL OF PORT ARTHUR PREDICTED.

Rome, April 14—A telegram received from New Chwang states that the fall of Port Arthur is believed to be imminent. The dispatch further states that Admiral Togo, commander of the Japanese fleet, is preparing to land troops for beginning a siege of the town.

SON OF GENERAL KILLED.
London, April 14—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Central News, wires that a dynamite outrage at Hotel Nord today wrecked the room in which the son of General Kazaroff was living, and the young man was killed. The papers containing news of the outrage were confiscated.

ANOTHER REPORTED LOST.
Paris, April 14—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Journal states that a rumor is current in the Russian capital that another Russian warship has been destroyed by a mine. Petit Parisien, another newspaper, has a similar dispatch.

NEARLY 800 PERISHED.
St. Petersburg, April 14—A definite list of the dead in the destruction of the battleship Petropavlovsk, shows that 41 officers and 750 men lost their lives.

GOOD BUSINESS

Shown by Reports of Last Year's Work Here.

Annual Meeting of the Union Depot Company Held Here Today.

The annual meeting of the Union Depot Company was held in Paducah today, and was largely a perfunctory affair. There were present from a distance Col. John B. Castleman and Mr. George W. Lewman, the latter president of the First National Bank at Louisville. Sup't. Egan, of the Louisville division, was also in attendance.

The report for the year showed a most gratifying increase in business, and the company's affairs had been capably managed during the year.

The following directors were elected: J. T. and W. J. Harahan, M. Gillespie, John B. Castleman, G. W. Lewman, Charles Reed and W. F. Paxton and J. A. Welling.

The officers elected the following officers: M. Gillespie, president; J. F. Tites, treasurer; W. G. Bruen, secretary. The meeting lasted but a short time and the out of town stockholders left at noon for home.

WOMAN FIGHTER

SHE IS ALLOWED TO JOIN A REGIMENT OF COSSACKS.

St. Petersburg, April 14—The war ministry has granted the petition of Mme. Poussep, daughter of Colonel Maxio Coudurow, who desired to be enrolled in a Cossack regiment. The ministry has ordered her enrollment in the First regiment of riflemen.

Mme. Poussep is 33 years old, was reared under the patronage of the late Emperor Alexander III., is a fine horsewoman and a good shot, and handles the rifle, revolver and sword equally well, often taking part in the cavalry maneuvers of the Vyazensky regiment. She also is a qualified Red Cross nurse, but she says there are enough women nurses, and wants to show that a woman can fight.

GOES TO THE JURY THIS AFTERNOON

Arguments in the Mount Case Being Heard Today.

Some of the Evidence Damaging—Mount Tells His Story For the First Time.

NEWS OF OTHER LOCAL COURTS

The Willis Mount murder case will go to the jury this afternoon about 4 o'clock, all the morning and afternoon having been consumed in speaking.

The attorneys were given three hours a side and this morning at 9 o'clock the argument began. The evidence was concluded early this morning, only a few unimportant witnesses being called to the stand.

John Whitnell testified that he was in the room and saw the shooting. That Mount was lying on the bed with Sam Myles and Will Bishop when Natty began to argue with Al Phelps over gambling. Phelps refused to play with Natty who resented it. Mount arose from the bed and asked Natty "what in the h— he intended to do about it," and with the words assumed a leaning posture on the gambling table. Natty replied: "Willis Mount, I know you; you are no friend of mine and look like 30 cents to me." Immediately following Mount threw a big gun up in Natty's face and fired. Natty wheeled and fell but before he reached the floor Mount pumped one more shot into his back. Either wound would have proven fatal, according to Dr. Hoyer's statement.

Will Bishop, who claimed in the examining court that he got out of the room before the shooting, admitted having been in the room and of having seen the whole affair. He swore that the conversations heretofore given in the testimony of Whitnell, were true and stated he tried to get out of the door before the shot, but did not see Mount fire them.

Dick McGregor, formerly with the News-Democrat, swore that Mount deliberately fired into Natty's face after holding the gun on him fully half a minute. "So long did he hold the gun that it seemed he would not shoot, and was only making a bluff," were McGregor's words. McGregor was the star witness for the prosecution and told a straightforward story. Sam Myles testified about the same as the other witnesses and the evidence of the commonwealth was closed.

Mount was placed on the stand and testified that he had arisen from the bed as Natty began to quarrel and asked him what he was going to do. Natty replied, "G— d— y— I am going to kill you" and seeing his life thus endangered and the threat being accompanied by Natty running his hand in his pocket, Mount swore that he considered it a matter of the quickest man to get his gun and accordingly fired the fatal shots.

Mount also claimed that he and Natty had a quarrel about two years ago in Mount's father's restaurant on lower Broadway, because Natty was with some women and was making too much noise, and claimed that Natty at that time hit him, Mount, slashing his shirt bosom. Since then there had been ill feeling between them.

The evidence was quite a surprise in some quarters. It was said all along that the gamblers present would try to shield Mount, but they were given to understand by the court that nothing but the truth would be tolerated.

Mount's story on the stand late yesterday afternoon was the first statement he had made of the shooting since it occurred. On the advice of his attorneys he continually declined to make any statement, and the silence was never broken until yesterday when he was placed in the stand.

In the case of the commonwealth against the Ayer & Lord Tie Co. a mandate from the court of appeals was filed in which the judgment of the lower court was reversed. The suit was brought by Auditor's Agent Frank Lucas to collect taxes on the company's boats here. The case was dismissed in this court as the company showed that it paid taxes in Illinois, but the court of appeals decided that the case should be tried again and it will be docketed and heard before Judge Wm. Reed. The case is of great interest to steamboat owners.

APPEALS TO CIRCUIT COURT.
The defendant in the case of M. B. Peery against Shipmen Bradt & Co. has filed an appeal to the circuit court. The judgment rendered against the defendant is for $56.69.

The Fraternal Construction Co., of Kevil, today filed a suit against the Jackson Foundry Co. for $1,500 damages done in the building of an iron front for the Fraternity building at Kevil. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant contracted with the plaintiff to furnish an iron front for the building to be made of the best material and workmanship, but did not fulfil the requirements of the contract and that the building one night collapsed. The cause of the collapse was laid to the defective iron work, and the plaintiff claims damages to the amount of $1,500.

A suit was filed by the supreme lodge, Knights of Honor, against Newton Robertson and others today in circuit court to settle a claim of $2,000 against the lodge. Complications since the death of T. M. Robertson, who held the original policy, have arisen and it is not clearly known to whom to pay the money and the plaintiff seeks to have the court decide it.

Robert Stephens has filed a suit against the Western Union Telegraph Co. asking for $2,000 damages for failure to deliver a message to his brother in Marion, Ill., apprising him of the death of the plaintiff's child.

T. E. Moss has filed a suit against Morris Friedman to secure the payment of an alleged note amounting to $1,500.

Peusacola, Fla., April 14—By the explosion of 2,000 pounds of powder in the after 12-inch turret and in the handling room of the battleship Missouri, Captain William S. Cowles, commanding 29 men were instantly killed and five injured, two of whom will die.

The Missouri was on the target range with the Texas and Brooklyn at practice about noon, when a charge of powder in the 12-inch left hand gun exploded, ignited from gas, and dropping below, ignited four charges of powder in the handling room, and all exploded and only one man of the entire turret and handling crew survived.

But for the prompt and efficient work of Captain Cowles in flooding the handling room and magazine with water one of the magazines would have exploded and the ship would have been destroyed.

Captain Cowles completely overcame by the disaster, referred all newspaper men to Lieutenant Hammer, the ordnance officer. The latter gave out a statement of the explosion and its probable cause.

According to him, about noon yesterday, after the first pointer of the after 12-inch piece had fired his string and the second pointer had fired the third shot of his string, the charge ignited. The fourth shot was being loaded, and from all indications the first half of the charge had been rammed home and the second section was being rammed home, when gases from the shot previously fired, or portions of the cloth cover, ignited the powder. The breech was open and a dull thud gave notice of something unusual.

No loud report was made, but flames were seen to leap from every portion of the turret. A few seconds afterwards, another explosion somewhat fiercer occurred. This was in the handling room below, where 1,600 pounds of powder, or four charges, ready to be hoisted above, had ignited. Fire quarters were sounded and every man of the ship responded and the magazine and handling rooms were flooded with water. In less than five seconds after the first explosion two streams of water were being played in the rooms and when volunteers were called for, every man of the ship responded, eager to go into the turrets and rescue the crew.

Three minutes after the explosion all were on deck and the surgeons from the Missouri, Texas and Brooklyn were attending to those not dead.

The 25 men of the turret were found lying in a heap.

They had started for the exit when the first explosion occurred, and had just reached there when the more terrible explosion in the handling room occurred, which burned and strangled them to death. Lieutenant Davidson, the officer in charge of the turret, evidently had given some command to the men, as he was on top of the heap of men, having fallen there after he had allowed them to pass him to get out of the turret.

The bodies were hardly recognizable, the terrible and quick fire having burned clothing from the bodies of the men, and the flesh hung from them in shreds. The faces were mutilated by the smoke and flames only. Only one man was breathing when the turret crew was reached and he died a moment after he reached the deck.

ST. LOUIS PLAYERS PLAY PADUCAH

Catcher for Visitors to Manage Hoptown This Year.

The Team is to Play a Series of Three Games With the Paducah
K. I. T's.

INTERESTING BASEBALL NEWS

This afternoon local fans are enjoying a game of baseball at the Wallace park grounds.

A crack team from St. Louis is here and will play in addition to the game this afternoon, two more games, completing the series Saturday afternoon. Following the game Saturday the St. Louis Dells will come here for a match game for Sunday and some good sport is expected.

The team is known as the St. Louis Nationals, but is neither the National league nor the American association team, but simply a strong amateur team from the Future Great.

The lineup of the St. Louis team for today's game is as follows:

Heisler cf, Hans 3b, Desmond p, Armstrong o, Ames lf, Hines rf, Theis 2b, Eldredth ss, Dwyer 1b, Johnson, csh, Robinson sub.

It will be of interest to note that Catcher Armstrong of the St. Louis team, will be the manager of Hop-town's team this season. His work this afternoon will be watched with interest. Following the game Sunday with the Dells, of St. Louis, the Memphis Southern league team will come here for a series of games and great sport is expected when they arrive. The fact that Paducah "skinned" Nashville so badly, is sufficient to the local fans that Memphis can be treated likewise.

Hudson, of Pulaski, Tenn., who is a regular pitcher on Paducah's staff, is not what might be termed a speedy pitcher but he seems to have a knack of throwing balls that can't be hit very far. Hudson has won more games probably than any other "youngster" in the league, and was retained because he knew how to deliver a difficult ball to hit. He will undoubtedly make good here and the local fans will be glad to learn that he has been retained permanently.

Henderson players are reporting for duty and all seem to be in good shape, judging from the newspaper articles.

Brady will get in tonight, he wires, and will probably be used for the first time Sunday or possibly Monday in the game with Memphis.

Saturday, Sunday and Monday, of next week, the locals will go to Evansville for a series of games. This will be the first trip on a circuit and it is hoped the boys will show up well.
Hoptown will play the first exhibition game with the Cherokee Indians within the next two weeks.

SKIMMED MILK

PEOULIAR INVENTION IS BEING EXPLOITED IN SEVERAL FAC-TORIES AT VIENNA.

Vienna, April 14—An invention of great interest to America is now widely exploited by several factories here. They use up 20,000 quarts of skimmed milk daily to make substitutes for marble, ivory, celluloid, berstein, hard rubber, etc.

The milk, otherwise, almost valueless, is treated with formalin and other substances, which process causes it to form into a white, easily handled stone, which is unaffected by either fire or water. It is entirely elastic, and can easily be cut. All sorts of articles for use and ornament are made of this milkstone, among others, paper knives, billiard balls, cigar holders, knife handles, etc.

W. O. Overstreet, residing at 913 Trimble street, in charge of P. F.
Lally's meat department, corner of 10th and Trimble streets, says: "I have been refused by two different insurance companies lately on account of kidney trouble. My back was always aching and if I stooped over I could hardly straighten. I finally got right down sick and friends told me I must do something or I would die. I felt so languid and weak from the constant drain caused by the kidney trouble that I realized that I must do something more than what was being done for me. I am a poor hand to use samples or try remedies, but reading an advertisement one day about Doan's Kidney Pills and what they had done for just such a case as mine I resolved to try them. I was suffering more than anyone could describe at the time I sent down to DuBois & Co's drug store for a box of the pills.
In less than a week I was feeling so much benefited by their use that I began telling my friends that I would only be a short time before I would be as sound as any man. The kidney secretions gradually disappeared, the annoyances ceased and I could sleep a full night without trouble. Well I continued to take them, buying more of them and they have done me a wonderful sight of good. I don't have occasion to complain of my back now, and have found out that the cause of it was the kidneys. I feel that I am cured, and don't look for any recurrence of the trouble, but if such a thing should happen, Doan's kidney pills will be what I shall use. I have induced several people to use them and I know they were benefited. You can use my name as a reference for I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a grand remedy that will cure."

THE STREET WORK STILL SUSPENDED

Engineer Washington Says He Has Done all Possible.

Mayor Blamed by People for Not Calling Meeting to Settle It.

JOB MUST BE READY MAY 30

City Engineer L. A. Washington stated today that he had done all he could to force work on the brick street contract, but that his decision in the concrete controversy, which is one cause of hanging fire, had been ignored by Contractor Terrell, who declares he will abide by nothing except what the general council decides. Mayor Yeiser declined to call the general council early in the week, claiming that the expense of $50 or $60 would be too great, and as a result there have been several days of idleness, during which some of the merchants who are almost entirely shut off from their business by the torn up blocks claim they have lost more money than two or three meetings of the general council would have cost.

Contractor Terrell has a month and a half to build the other four blocks of brick street, but instead of completing them May 30 this year, at the present rate it may be May 30 next year before they are finished. It is probable that another extension of time will be asked, in which event there will be some violent opposition in the boards.

The latest controversy over the work was in regard to curbing. The contractor wanted to put down new curbing in places where comparatively new pavements and curbing were found, but City Engineer Washington decided today that the contractor could have the old curbing redressed, and use it again, saving the property owner the expense of new curbing.

Engineer Washington said today that in regard to the sand and gravel, the city does not care where the contractor gets it, and there is no excuse for delay on that score, as there is plenty of sand and gravel to be secured somewhere, and it is the contractor's own lookout where it comes from.

It is probable that there will be little work on the street until after a meeting of the boards next week.

EXECUTOR.

New Haven, Conn., April 14—Cousin for Mrs. Grace Imogene Beets has positioned Probate Judge Cleveland to remove William Jennings Bryan as executor of the estate of the late Philon S. Bennett. The chief allegation is that he is dissipating the funds of the estate in his legal attempts to secure the probating of the "sealed letter" as a part of the will. The "sealed letter" gives Mr. Bryan $50,000.

LAX-FOS For the Kidney's, Liver and Stomach

A Sweet Breath

Like the fragrance of a rose comes a sweet breath from the healthy stomach. The breath is an index to the health. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. A disordered stomach strikes terror to the nervous system and weakens every tissue and muscle of the body. It weakens the brain, the heart and damages the kidneys. A disordered stomach starves the blood and weakens the system because it can not digest and assimilate sufficient food to keep up the health and strength.

Kodol

DYSPEPSIA CURE

corrects every disorder of the stomach. It is not recommended for any complaint except those arising from a disordered condition of the stomach. Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or overloaded, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach. When you take Kodol everything you eat tastes good, and every bit of the nutriment that your food contains is digested, assimilated and appropriated by the blood and tissues.

Kodol Digests What You Eat—Makes the Stomach Sweet.

Bottles only. Regular Size, holding 2 1/2 times as much as the trial size which sells for 50 cents.

"I have suffered with heart-burn, and have had most severe attacks of same. I would awake in the night with most suffering pains. I read of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and with no failure, I tried a bottle. I kept it at my place on my table, and I must say, found quick relief. In all, I have taken three small bottles, and for the past year have had no return attack." Dwain Kim, Madison, Wis.

"For a great many years I have been troubled with Dyspepsia. I have tried all the known remedies without obtaining any results. Kodol was recommended to me by my druggist and after taking a few bottles I am glad to say that I can eat anything I wish without suffering from indigestion. I recommend it to all sufferers from Dyspepsia, no matter

JACKASS EARS

ARE WARMLY COMMENDED BY MISSOURI JUDGE.

Kansas City, Mo., April 14.—"I believe in any man who has an ear like a jackass," Judge Wofford said today in the Criminal Court. He was talking to a young man who had just pleaded guilty to forging a check for $10. "You see a man with a big ear, like a jackass, and there's something in him, but look out for the man with the little scrooped up ears like a fox." He then sentenced him to six months and parole him.

OFFICIALS BUSY IN THE BOND CASE

Finance Committee to Meet Again to Take Up Compromise

Roberts & Co. to Forego a Trial in the $10,000 Damage Suit
in U. S. Court.

CITY WANTS TO COMPROMISE

A meeting of the joint finance committee of the general council will be held tomorrow evening for the purpose of considering the matter of compromising the Roberts & Co. bond suit against the city. The city officials have repeatedly refused heretofore to compromise the case, and the attorneys for the bond company are going to force a trial of it this time, and the administration is becoming alarmed.

The suit is for $9,915 damages, but the total amount in interest and costs, should the city lose the case, will be a great deal more than $10,000. The suit was brought several years ago as a result of a breach of contract on part of the city. There were about $65,000 in bonds which the city decided to refund at a lower rate of interest, and a contract, after the usual preliminaries, was made with Roberts & Co., of New York, to take the new issue when the time arrived for refunding the bonds.

In the meantime some of the city officials decided that the bonds might be refunded at a still lower rate of interest or that the rate already agreed on was too high, and the old question that had been ignored by the Republican council, and which had for the sake of the city's good name and integrity never been seriously considered by any administration—that of the bonds' validity—was then sprung by the city officials with a view of defeating the refunding of the bonds. The allegation was that on account of some trivial technicality the bonds were illegal, and could not be refunded at any rate of interest. This opinion was rendered by City Attorney Lightfoot, and on the strength of his advice the city refused to comply with its contract with Roberts & Co., and the bonds were not refunded.

Roberts & Co. was willing to concede that the city officials had acted in good faith, and offered to compromise for $75, the amount of actual expenses in sending a representative to Paducah, printing the bonds and other costs, but the city declined to pay even this small amount.

In a short time, when the interest on the bonds which the administration had decided were illegal, fell due, some of the able financiers in the council sprung the point that as the bonds were illegal according to the city attorney, it would be illegal to pay any interest on them, so they completed the repudiation by refusing to pay the interest.

The innocent bondholders, most of whom live in St. Louis, then brought suit and won it. Judge Walter Evans, in federal court, held that the city was liable in every particular, and that as the city had gotten all the railroad had promised, had reaped all the benefit from the bonds, and had acknowledged the debt by paying interest on it for many years, that it was nothing more than right that the city should comply with her part of the contract. The total amount of interest and costs had by that time accumulated until it amounted to about $18,000, which has never yet been paid by the city, the banks here taking up the coupons for the city.

Roberts & Co. then sued for breach of contract, claiming that the bonds Paducah contracted to refund and sell the company had been sold in advance by the latter at a profit of over $9,000, for which amount they ask damages. The case has been dragging along for several years, and the bond company's attorneys are going to force a trial of it this time, and say that it is evident from Judge Evans' decision in the interest case involving the city's action relative to the bonds that Roberts & Co. has a good case.

The last proposition to compromise was for 2,000, which the city rejected, and now that it has become evident that the attorneys are going to push the case, the city officials are preparing to take up the compromise again.

One of the attorneys for the bond company stated today that so far as his clients are concerned, they are

MANY HEADS MUST COME OFF SHORTLY

Board of Public Works Getting Down to Work.

Pay Rolls were Gone Over Last Night and Purg'd—Another Block of Paving.

LIGHT PLANT TO BE IMPROVED

It is reported on good authority that the board of public works is going to cause something to drop in municipal circles in a short time. After tomorrow the indications are that a lot of fellows on the city pay roll today, will find that their heads have been lopped off. The board, it is reported, has uncovered the most wanton extravagance, which is only their euphemism for "graft." They have already laid off nearly all the street laborers and have saved the city hundreds of dollars a year by ordering into use the street roller.

The board held a meeting last night, but did little other than go over accounts and consider how many names to take off the city pay rolls. It also began sending out notices relative to defective sidewalks and gutters and will force property owners to repair them at once. It intends to make Paducah at least get the worth of her money, and the people are beginning to commend the board on all sides for its progressiveness and enterprise.

It is understood that steps will be taken at once to have Broadway paved from Fifth to Sixth streets, no provision for which has been made, but which was expected to be paved out of the $100,000 bond issue. The total cost of paving the block will be about $1,000, but as the property owners have to pay half, the cost to the city would be only $500.

There is a strong sentiment in favor of paving the street at once, as it is evident that the administration is not going to do anything in regard to the bond issue in time to begin work this year.

Another matter of interest is that of the city electric light plant. The new board of public works has decided to not only insure the city the best possible material and service in regard to repairs on the streets, but in the city electric light plant as well. It is understood that as soon as they carry out their plans for the light plant, the people will have no further cause for complaint of bad service. The complete plans have not yet been formulated, but they promise to accomplish much.

It is understood that one thing the board has under advisement is the matter of putting in an additional machine and furnish all the incandescent lights needed by the city in her various buildings, schools and public library. The lights now cost the city somewhere near $65 a month, and when the lights are placed in the library, there is no telling how much more they will cost. It is estimated that the city would save a great deal of money at comparatively little cost.

The board has out inspecting pavements and curbing in the city. Capt. Buck Roberts, who is making a house to house canvass, and who last night turned in about 150 notices, which will be sent out immediately notifying property owners that they must repair pavements or curbing, which over may be found in bad condition.

through with the case, and are ready for the trial. If the city tendered them the $2,000 compromise, they will accept it for their clients, but they will make no more overtures, and have nothing further to do with the city in the case other than to accept the terms of the compromise should the city come to them and tender the money.

SEVEN PARKS

Are On the Circuit On Which Paducah Is To Be.

Mr. Matt Kneill Will Manage the Park During the Summer.

Mr. Gus Thompson, superintendent of the Paducah City Railway Co., has signed a contract with Mr. Matt Kneill, of New Albany, Ind., to manage Wallace park Casino theater this summer, and Paducah is assured the best of entertainment in the vaudeville, drama, variety and in fact every class of summer theatricals.

Mr. Kneill has seven parks on his circuit and will alternate with his shows, one show playing in Paducah and another in some other city on the circuit. He has only the best in the summer stock line and guarantees to furnish nothing but the best.

Mr. Thompson considers himself lucky indeed in securing the capable manager in the fact that he was unable to form a circuit himself and was fortunate enough to secure a manager who had a client of his own.

Mr. Kneill will report here in a few days to look over the theater and suggest repairs, if any are necessary, and to arrange the necessary preliminaries. He will probably open the theater May 30.

The park this summer will be lived on Sunday afternoon by band concerts. Three will be a refreshment stand stocked with the best refreshments to be had and the park will be more successfully run this season than ever before.

CURES COUGHS AND COLDS.

Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake Street, Topeka, Kansas, says: "Of all cough remedies Ballard's Horehound Syrup is my favorite; it has done and will do all that is claimed for it—to speedily cure all coughs and colds—and it is so sweet and pleasant to the taste." 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.

SECRETARY HAY

FORWARDS TO STATES A REQUEST OF FOREIGN GOVERNMENT.

Secretary of State John Hay has forwarded to all State officers a letter regarding naturalization papers which will be of general interest.

Every county court has authority to issue such papers, and each one in the state will be notified. The letter is as follows:

The department is in receipt of a note dated March 19, 1904, from the Ambassador of Austria-Hungary, stating that his Government requests that those certificates of naturalization issued in the United States to former subjects of Austria-Hungary, which state the place of birth of the person naturalized, shall distinguish between the divisions of the empire and shall not describe former Hungarians as having been born in Austria, or vice versa. The Ambassador states that former subjects of Austria-Hungary who visit their native land suffer inconvenience if the land of their birth is incorrectly given in the certificates of naturalization which they hold.

I have the honor to convey this information to you for transmission to the courts of your State having power to naturalize aliens.

JAPS MUST STOP

Uncle Sam Approves the Protest of Russia.

Japanese Instructors in China Have Bad Effect on Chinese.

Washington, April 13.—Russia's protest against the continued service of Japanese officers as military instructors in the Chinese army is tacitly approved by the United States and it is not improbable that similar representations will be made to China by the state department.

The activity of the Chinese imperial troops under Gen. Yuan Shai Kai has not troubled Secretary Hay and the president as much as it has the Russian government. Nevertheless the strain which now exists between the forces at Peking which desire to maintain China's neutrality and those which are anxious to cast the lot of the empire with Japan is considered a most vital element of the situation.

Germany is extremely restless about the pro-Japanese tendencies of Gen. Yuan Shai Kai and his lieutenant general, Ma Baron Sternburg, the German ambassador, has already made the presence of Japanese officers in the Chinese army the subject of a conference with Secretary Hay.

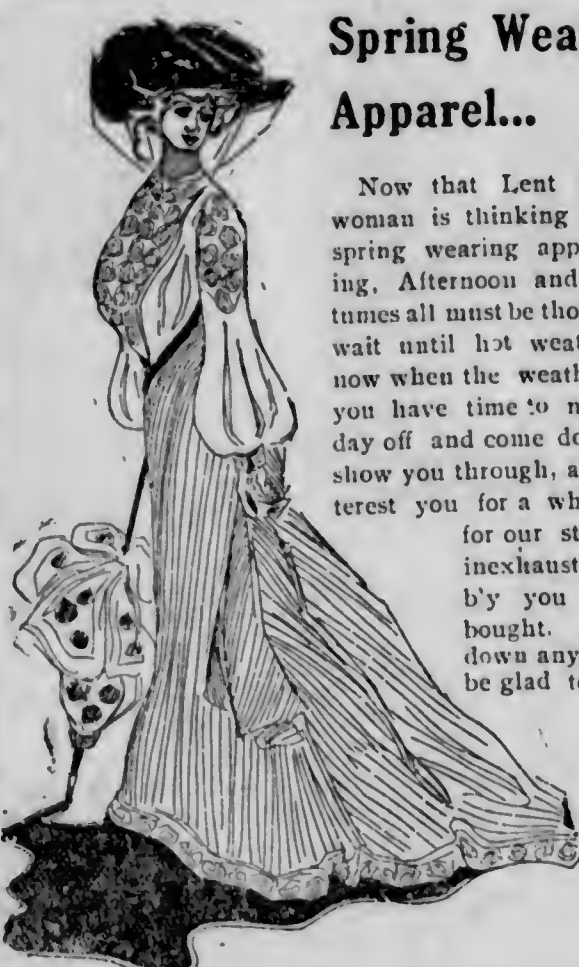

Although Germany is keeping her hand well in the background, the preservation of China's neutrality is extremely vital to her. Germany initiated the agreement between the powers to respect and to assist the neutrality of China and to do all possible to limit the area of hostilities. It is learned that the Russian government several weeks ago sent a military agent to observe what effect the presence of Japanese officers was having on the Chinese army. It is evident that he learned that these officers were fomenting pro-Japanese sentiment. Otherwise the protest of Minister Lassar to the Chinese government would probably never have been made.

UPHOLDING THE LAW.

The governor and adjutant general of Colorado have defied the judge of one of the courts, and precipitated a lively controversy. The governor has declared martial law in one of the mining districts and the adjutant general is in command of troops whose orders are to preserve law and order. Whether or not this step was necessary is not a question pertinent at the present time. The executive of the state, in whom is vested the authority to declare martial law, presumably thought it was, or he wouldn't have imposed the expense on his people. An alleged disturber and menace to the peace of the community was arrested by the military authorities, and one of the courts on a writ of habeas corpus ordered him released. The governor and military authorities refused and the adjutant general and a captain of one of the companies were adjudged in contempt of court and ordered to jail. They are not in jail because they declined to go. If they should go, the governor would pardon them because they are only carrying out his orders. The military authorities plainly have the best of the situation. Their object is to maintain law and order, and they are doing it in their own way. To the executive department is delegated the enforcement of the law, while courts can only interpret it. But all civil law is suspended during the existence of martial law, and the jurisdiction of any civil court in the district does not appear to exist. Military law in such cases recognizes no civil law, hence the officers probably acted within their rights and authority, in ignoring a court which ordered released a prisoner whose custody was deemed necessary to preserve the peace and dignity of the commonwealth. Habeas corpus is not operative, it is claimed, during the enforcement of martial law, and there is no apparent reason the military authorities of Colorado should not have acted exactly as they did and are doing.

THE NEW ALDERMAN.

The mayor's idea in leaving to Alderman Durrett the appointment of the latter's successor in case of a vacancy is not clear, unless he simply wants to shirk the responsibility. The law, whether properly or otherwise, delegates to the mayor the authority to make such appointments. It would appear that the members of the board of aldermen, if anyone outside the mayor, should be permitted to choose the new member who is to take a seat amongst them until the people can elect one, but as the charter was designed in many instances to suit the purposes of the Democratic politicians who drafted it, no such provision is made, and the power of filling vacancies of this character is left exclusively with the mayor.

Mayor Yeiser's announced intention of allowing the retiring alderman to name the new alderman, however, looks a little peculiar, to say the least. If Alderman Durrett voluntarily resigns, he relinquishes all claim to the office, either on legal or sentimental grounds, particularly as he gives up a position in which he was elected to serve the people, for one of pecuniary benefit to himself. It is his own choice, and leaves the people or the representatives of the people, under no obligations to him to allow him to fill a vacancy he voluntarily creates himself to take something better.

Of course Alderman Durrett did not ask the privilege of naming his successor. It was gratuitously offered him by the mayor, and we are only attempting to show that there is no reason the mayor should have tendered the privilege, unless, as has been intimated, he feels reasonably certain Alderman Durrett will select the man the mayor wants but hasn't the backbone to assume the responsibility for. If the mayor really desires to leave the selection of the new alderman to somebody else, why not allow the other members of the board of aldermen to make the selection, and then appoint the man they choose?

HOW TO STOP DELAY.

There should be some way to guard against unnecessary delays in contracts for public improvements. Paducah now has two blocks of street torn up, which would be permitted in probably no other city in the country. The so-called famine in sand and gravel is no cause. All the sand in the world is not found in Paducah, and there is plenty of gravel elsewhere. The city doesn't care where it comes from. The contractor has agreed to perform certain work at certain prices and to finish it by a certain time, and where he obtains the material is his own affair, whether he gets it at Paducah, or has to go to Sandwich Islands for it. All the delay appears to be for a purpose. In due time an application will probably be made for an "extension of time," and this may be the real cause of delay. The city, at any rate, has already granted one extension of time on this same contract, and if it is made plain that no other will be granted, and that the penalty will be strictly enforced for every day over the time set for the completion of the work, the material will doubtless be found, and found pretty quickly, and there will not be constant quibbling, and a suspension of work over everything that comes up.

PICK THE BEST MEN.

The Republicans of Paducah and McCracken county should all attend the precinct conventions April 21 and see that the best men possible to get are selected as delegates to the county convention; the delegates to the county convention should see that only the best material is sent to the other conventions.

Owing to the fact that a great many important questions and issues are to come up this year, the necessity and propriety of such a course should appeal to every loyal Republican. The fundamental principle of Republicanism is government by the people, and the greater number who attend these conventions and avail themselves of their rights, and do their duty to themselves, their party and the people, the nearer will we approach the ideal government the Republican party has always sought.

Hugh Mulholland's pleasant romance about being acquitted in Paducah after a mail carrier had confessed, indicates that whatever has been the extent of his downfall, he has not yet lost his proficiency in the gentle art of prostration.

Colonel W. J. Bryan can't even be an executor in peace. At the rate the former statesman is going down, he wouldn't stand any show running for justice of the peace in a couple of years.

If the Russians are so stupid they can't keep from blowing up their own ships, they had better sue for peace and then "go way back and sit down."

The quickest way to settle some of these delays in public improvements is to deprive certain cliques of their "pulls" with public officials.

Points to Note in Regard to This Line

We are using a green enamel gear exclusively, which is nicely striped with aluminum bronze. We are using stamped steel hubs, which are far superior to malleable (which most manufacturers are using) as they are all uniform in size and hardness, and each and every one is alike, while the old style malleable hubs are all sizes and uneven, very often requiring a lot of filing to be done before it will fit the axle as it should; these hubs cost us a little more but we think it better and worth the difference in price to our trade. The adjustments are the best we have seen up to date. The front and back work independently of each other. To adjust the back, all it requires is a slight pressure of the lever in the back and you can set the back at three different angles. To adjust the front all that is necessary is to raise the dash to the required height and it will lock itself, and to release it, a slight jerk up will unfasten the automatic catch and allow the dash to go down completely. We are using nutless wheels on everything.

No. 335 B, Price $17.50

Our upholstering ideas are entirely new and novel, as we make all cushions upon the loose frames, which will retain their shape as long as the cart lasts. These are far superior to the old style pad cushions used by most other manufacturers and they will fit any cart so they can be changed from one to another should customers so desire. We show only a few of our large selection here.

Every one knows that Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. Hence the housewife uses it with implicit confidence and without question, and she is justified in so doing.

But how few realize that Royal Baking Powder in its chief ingredient is a direct product of the healthful and delicious grape! This constituent of the grape, crystallized and ground to an impalpable powder, is the cream of tartar which forms the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Fruit properties are indispensable to the healthfulness of the body, and those of the grape as used in the "Royal" are the most valuable and healthful of all.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder produces food superlative both in flavor and wholesomeness.

A surprise party was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Rupprecht last night at their home 502 Ohio street, by the choir and some of the young members of their congregation, as a testimonial of their esteem and regret in giving up the minister and his wife.

The evening was spent in music and games and refreshments were served. The minister was presented with a nice donation in money, by his guests.

The property is a valuable investment, and the company has leased more land, and will name the new company to develop it, which will have stock of $60,000, "The Paducah."

MINE OWNERS MEET

SESSION BEING HELD IN INDIANA TO ADJUST WAGES.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—The mine owners of Western Kentucky are meeting here with representatives of the United Mine Workers of America in an effort to have the miners' wages decreased. The operators of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, forming the interstate agreement, by means of which wages in these States among bituminous coal mines was reduced 5.55 per cent.

The operators present are: W. D. Melhenny, of Central City; H. Davies, of Louisville; W. R. Cole, of Nashville, Tenn., and D. S. Miller, of Owensboro.

At the preliminary session both sides stated their positions, but no effort was made to reach an agreement. It is evident that both operators and miners are determined in their stand. The miners argue that Kentucky coal is not shipped North, and therefore does not come in competition with coal mined by operators in the interstate agreement, who have secured a reduction in wages, and that the wages paid north of the Ohio river have absolutely no relation to those paid south of the river. The Kentucky operators, on the other hand, demand 2 1/2 per cent. decrease in wages. They argue that contract prices and other conditions of the trade make it impossible to continue the present wage scale.

CITY HALL HUMOR

Alleged Joke Comes Near Ending in Hard Feelings.

City Clerk Bailey Objects to Being Bothered by Dog Catchers.

An atmosphere of extreme chilliness has prevailed about the city hall for the past two days, that did not come from the outside. It was purely an interior frigidity arising from an alleged joke some of the official humorists played on a newspaper reporter, by having him publish a statement that City Clerk Henry Bailey had been appointed "dog inspector" by Chief of Police Collins, and would look after all stray dogs caught in Paducah.

The apparent object was to have all the dirty gamins in town, and divers others who are willing to coerce a canine to the city hall and have its light put out for a quarter, throng Clerk Bailey's office at the city hall and annoy him in his work. The alleged humorist who "strung" the reporter probably thought this would be fun. Many people have a peculiar idea of humor, anyhow. Clerk Bailey, however, didn't relish the joke. He published a card in the same paper today that is very sarcastic, but is to the point. He says that he wouldn't have such a job for any amount of money, and would not encourage any boy to steal a dog and have it killed, by paying him a quarter for it.

Clerk Bailey's wrath is doubtless justified. There are a few perhaps well-meaning but thoughtless officials about the city hall who appear to think that a newspaper is a repository for all the alleged jokes they like to see in print on each other, but which do not appeal to any one else as being in the least funny. They appear to think that reporters are sent to the city hall to be "strung" with a lot of fakes and other things, instead of to get facts for thousands of people to read every day. One of these kinds of humorists, doubtless, made Clerk Bailey a victim, but the alleged joker has since learned that everything he may think is funny, is not necessarily so. It ought to be a lesson to city officials not to try to joke with newspapers.

Yesterday morning an aged woman laboriously dragged herself up the steps to Clerk Bailey's office and hardly able to restrain the tears, tremblingly laid out $5 for her dog license and tag. The money was in pennies, nickels and dimes, and was evidently the savings of months, of some one. She told Clerk Bailey that she couldn't well spare the money, but her two children loved their dog so, that she couldn't bear to have him taken away from them, so she brought up the money. Only the treasurer is authorized to accept money, so she was sent across the hall. It was only one instance of what one sees every day about the city hall.

"That woman saw in the paper, I suppose, where I was the man who was looking after the dogs," said Clerk Bailey, and she brought that money up to me. She will always feel hard towards me and think I caused her to have to part with her hard-earned savings in order to save her children's pet. I don't propose to have such jokes played at my expense."

The police are to at once begin keeping boys from the streets and pavements, so far as playing ball, marbles and other games are concerned. There is a great deal of complaint all over the city because of the conduct of boys, and the police will have to stop them. Chief Collins thinks there are more good boys than bad, but the bad ones who throw stones, hit people with balls and refuse to get out of the way of vehicles while playing ball or marbles in the streets cause the others to suffer, and they must all stay off the streets.

BOOKS LOOSE

THEY CAN NO LONGER BE SECOND CLASS MATTER.

Washington, April 14—The United States supreme court has decided that books published periodically are not entitled to transmission through the mails as second class mail matter. Justices Fuller and Harlan dissented. The question decided has been the subject of controversy for 16 years. Under 11 postmaster generals these publications were carried as second class matter, under protest from the department. The postmaster general issued an order in 1902 excluding the books from the second class rate. Thereupon, the matter was taken to the courts.

Justice Brown who delivered the opinion, defined what constitutes periodical under the law. A periodical, as ordinarily understood, he said, is a publication appearing at stated intervals, each number of which contains a variety of original articles by different authors, devoted either to general literature or some special branch of learning, or to a special class of subjects. Ordinarily, each number is incomplete in itself and indicates a relation with prior or subsequent numbers of the same series.

Member of the Business Men's League and one of the best known business men in St. Louis, Mo. Read what Mr. Wand has to say about Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure:

"I know what it is to be afflicted with backache and I sympathize with fellow sufferers. After swallowing various and frequent nauseating doses of this and that prescription I decided that if Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure could not rid me of those backaches it at least would not do me any harm and I procured a bottle.

"Now the first bottle didn't stop those wearing backaches, but it did afford me great relief. The second bottle, however, did effectually put a stop to those racking backaches. Occasionally they returned when strenuous business affairs exhausted the physical forces, but a dose or two of Dr. Fenner's Cure gave instant relief.

The Gentleman From Indiana

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

Tom was eagerly watching his companion as he read. Harkless fell back on the pillows with a drawn face, and for a moment he held his thin hand over his eyes in a gesture of intense pain.

"What is it?" Meredith said quickly.
"Give me the pad, please."
"What is it, boy?"
The other's teeth snapped together.
"What is it?" he cried. "What is it?" It's treachery, and the worst I ever knew. Not a word of the accusation I demanded—lying praises instead! Read that editorial—there, there!" He struck the page with the back of his hand and threw the paper to Meredith. "Read that miserable lie! One who has won the love and respect of every person in the district! One who has suffered for his championship of righteousness! Righteousness! Save the mark!"
"What does it mean?"
"Mean! It means McCune, Rod Mc-Cune, who has lived under a threat for years—my threat. I swore I would

"What is it?" he cried.

print him out of Indiana if he ever raised his head again, and he knew I could. Almost overcome in the ful-liment of that threat—almost! It's a black scheme, and I see it now. This man came to Paducah and went on the Herald for nothing in the world but this. It's McCune's hand all along. He didn't name him even now, the coward!
The trick lies between McCune and young Fiske—the old man is innocent. Give me the pad. Not almost overcome. There are three good days to work in, and if Rod McCune sees congress it will be in his next inearution."

He rapidly scribbled a few lines on the pad and threw the sheets to Meredith. "Get those telegrams to the Western Union office in a rush, please. Read them first."

With wide eyes Tom read them. One was to Warren Smith:

Take possession Herald. This is your authority. Publish McCune papers, so labeled, which H. Fiske will hand you.
Best McCune. JOHN HARKLESS.

The second was addressed to H. Fiske:
You are relieved from the cares of editorship. You will turn over the management of the Herald to Warren Smith.
You will give him the McCune papers. If you do not or if you destroy them you cannot hide where I shall find you.
JOHN HARKLESS.

CHAPTER XIII.

VERY early in the morning a messenger boy stumbled up the front steps of Mer-edith's house and handed the colored servant four yellow envelopes, night messages. The man carried them upstairs, left three with his master's guest, then knocked on Meredith's door till a response assured him that the occupant was awake and slid the fourth envelope under the door. Meredith lay quite without motion for several minutes, sleepily watching the yellow rhomboid thing to mix itself in with a pleasant dream and insist on being read, but after a while he climbed grudgingly out of bed and perused the message with heavy eyes, still half asleep. He read it twice before it penetrated.

Suppress all newspapers today. Convention meets at 11. If we succeed, a delegation will come to Rouen this afternoon. They will come.

Tom rubbed his sticky eyelids and shook his head violently in a Spartan effort to rouse himself, but what more effectively performed the task for him were certain sounds that issued from Harkless' room across the hall. For some minutes Meredith had been dully conscious of a rustle and stir in the invalid's chamber, and he began to realize that no mere tossing upon a bed would account for a noise that reached him across a wide hall and through two closed doors of thick walnut. Suddenly he heard a quick, heavy trend, shod, in Harkless' room, and a resounding bang as some heavy object struck the floor. The doctor was not to come till evening. The servant had gone downstairs. Who in the sick man's room wore shoes? He rushed across the hall in his pajamas and threw open the unlocked door.

The bed was disarranged and vacant. Harkless, fully dressed, was standing in the middle of the floor hurling garments at a small trunk.
The horrified Meredith stood for a second bleached and speechless; then he rushed upon his friend and seized him with both hands.

"Mad, by heaven! Mad!"
"Let go of me, Tom!"
"Lunatic! Lunatic!"
"Don't step me one instant!" Meredith tried to force him toward the bed. "No; get back to bed. You're delirious, boy!"
"Delirious nothing! I'm a well man."
"Go to bed! Go to bed!"
Harkless set him out of the way with one arm. "To bed!" he cried.
"I'm going to Paducah!" Meredith wrung his hands. "The doctor!"

"Doctor be hanged!"
"What in the name of all that's terrible is the matter, John?"
His companion slung a light overcoat, unfolding, on the overflowing, misshapen bundle of clothes that lay in the trunk, then he jumped on the bed with both feet and kicked the lamp into the lock, while a very elegantly laundered cuff and shirt sleeve dangled out from under the fastened lid. "I haven't one second to talk, Tom; I have eighteen minutes to catch the express. It's more than a mile to the station, and the train leaves here at 9:32. I get there at 10:47. Telephone a cab for me, please, or tell me the number. I don't want to stop to hunt it up."

Meredith looked him in the eyes. In the pupils of Harkless shined a fierce light. His cheeks were reddened with an angry, healthy glow, and his teeth were clenched till the line of his jaw stood out like that of an embattled athlete. His brow was dark, his chest was thrown out, and he looked deep, quick breaths. His shoulders were squared, and in spite of his thinness they looked massy. Lethargy or malaria, or both—whatever his ailment—it was gone. He was six feet of hot wrath and cold resolution.

Tom said, "You are going?"
"Yes," he answered quietly, "I am going."

"Then I will go with you."
"Thank you, Tom," said Harkless slightly.

Meredith ran into his room, pressed an electric button and began to dive into his clothes with a panting rapidity astonishingly foreign to his desire. The colored man appeared in the doorway.
"The cart, Jim!" shouted his master.
"We want it like lightning. Tell the cook to give Mr. Harkless his breakfast in a hurry. Set a cup of coffee on the table by the front door for me. Run!
We've got to catch a train. That will be quicker than any cab," he explained to Harkless. "We'll break the ordinance against fast driving getting down there."

Ten minutes later the cart swept away from the house at a gait that pained the respectable neighborhood.
The big horse plunged through the air, his ears laid flat toward his tail. The cart careened sickeningly, and the face of the servant clutching at the rail in the rear was smeared with perspiration as they ploughed around curves on one wheel. To him it seemed they skirted the corners and death simultaneously, and the speed of their going made a strong wind in their faces.

Harkless leaned forward. "Can you make it a little faster, Tom?" he said.
They dashed up to the station amid the cries of people trying to the walls for safety. The two gentlemen leaped from the cart, bore down upon the ticket office, stormed at the agent and ran madly at the gates, flourishing their passports. The official on duty eyed them wearily. "Been gone two minutes," he remarked with a peaceable yawn.

Harkless stamped his foot on the cement flags; then he stood stock still, gazing at the empty tracks, but Meredith turned to him, smiling. "Won't it keep?" he asked.

"Yes, it will keep," John answered.
"Part of it may have to keep till election day, but some of it I will settle before night. And that," he cried between his teeth, "and that is the part of it in regard to young Fiske!"
"Oh, it's about H. Fiske, is it?"
"Yes, it's H. Fiske."

"Well, we might as well go up and see what the doctor thinks of you;
there's no train."

"I don't want to see a doctor again ever—as long as I live. I'm as well as anybody."

Tom burst out laughing and clapped his companion lightly on the shoulder, his eyes dancing with pleasure. "Upon my soul," he cried, "I believe you are.
A miracle wrought by the witch wand of indignation! That's rather against tradition, isn't it? Well, let's take a drive."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

—The city has never done anything either in the brick street, city hospital, or new market house matter, and it is not known when it will do anything. The hospital committee has not decided on either a location or an architect.

CLEAN OUT Your System

If a frog gets in your spring, you clean out the spring. If your cistern gets foul, you clean it out. If your horse goes lame, you apply immediate relief. If your engine breaks down, you repair it at once. Delay in any of these cases is disastrous. Ninety-seven per cent of the people suffer from some form of stomach or bowel trouble. All sorts of complications result from the delay in treating these organs. Keep your bowels clean and regular; then your stomach will perform its natural functions, your complexion will be clear, your breath sweet, your digestion perfect and your whole system rejoice in a delightful state of health.

AFTER DOGS

Chief Collins is Now Trying a New Method in Paducah.

Police Officers Instructed to Get Name of All Dog Owners.

Chief of Police James Collins has adopted a new method of enforcing the dog law. He has found that it does very little good to impound and kill the dogs. In a short time there are apparently as many dogs as before, and the rush to the tax collector's office is only temporary.

Chief Collins has consequently decided to try prosecuting the owners of dogs who do not pay license in the courts. This morning all the police officers were given small blank books and instructions to find the owner of every dog on their respective beats. The names will be put down, with the place of residence and the books will be turned into the city hall and compared with a list of those who have paid dog taxes. Warrants will then be issued against the delinquents and they may have to pay a fine, in addition to the dog tax.

IN ARKANSAS

It is Said Only One State Official Speaks to Gov. Davis.

Davis Said to Have Been Nominated by the Gamblers and Other Questionable Characters.

A prominent Kentucky state official who has just returned from Arkansas, stated to a reporter this morning that he never saw such a state of affairs exist anywhere as exists in Arkansas. There is only one man in the entire official family of the state, it is understood, who speaks to Governor Jeff Davis. Recently there was a meeting at which the attorney general is alleged to have said everything he could think of to the governor for an excuse to give him a licking, but the Governor swallowed it all, and there was no fight.

"I never found during the whole time I was gone, what you would call a single decent Democrat who was for Davis as Governor," said the Kentucky official. "All the gamblers and grafters were for him, and he won easily, strange to say, despite the strong opposition to him."

GREAT INCREASE.

SHOWN IN THE NUMBER OF DIVORCES IN THIS COUNTRY.

New York, April 14.—For the first time in seven years an effort has been made to secure statistics of divorces in the United States and the result shows that in that time the yearly average of divorces has grown from 16,426 to about 70,000, or more than 400 per cent.

Father Otten has prepared for the Roman Catholic Messenger a table of statistics of divorces for recent years, which shows that the percentage of increase since 1887 has been growing steadily, and that in a few years the United States will have as many divorces as Japan, which now has nearly as many divorces every year as all other nations combined.

Father Otten bases his conclusions on figures in the bulletin of the department of labor for September, 1902. These give the divorces granted in 1901 in sixty cities as 6998. These cities contain nearly one-ninth of the population of the country. If their proportion of divorces was maintained throughout the country, there would be, for the United States, 63,681.

PAINFUL INJURIES

Several Railroad Men Suffer From Slight Mishaps.

Fortunately None Serious — Child Accidentally Takes Crocote.

Mr. Charles Akers, an employee of the local I. C. woodworking shops, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock while working with a big nail.

Lonis Thomas, a fireman on the I. C., fell from the cab of his engine, which had stopped at Mayfield yesterday for water, and broke his left leg between the knee and ankle. He was brought in and taken to the hospital last night.

UNCORKED BY STEAM

WHEN THEY HAD PULLED THE CROCODILE THEY ROLLED THE PYTHON HOME.

Many creatures of the tropic zone arrived aboard the Atlantic transport liner Marquette from London, and a few of them of antagonistic temperaments got into scraps on the way across, says the New York Sun.

A monkey and a porcupine had a dispute and the porcupine wrote its monogram on the monkey. But the greatest sport to the animal keepers was a duel between a crocodile and a python.

The crocodile is a pet of Mrs. Szarvasi, of the Sells-Forerjunge show, and is called Sappho. The python, so the classic press agent who gave out the story said, is named Python.

Three nights ago the python, said to be about 20 feet long, escaped from its box and discovered the pet crocodile and made an effort to squeeze its life out. But the scaly armor of the python was unbreakable and could not be cracked even by the rigorous pressure of a forty foot python's coil. The crocodile lashed its tail in an ineffectual effort to reach the python, whose 80 feet were wound around the crocodile, chiefly aimlessly.

The animal men discovered the combatants about an hour after they had been in conflict, and tried to uncoil the 160 feet of python. It was an impossible task, as the coils had become as rigid as steel.

Then the men decided to uncork the coil by pulling out the crocodile with the help of a steam winch and hawser.

The python presented a somewhat remarkable appearance after the separation. It simply could not uncoil itself, and the animal men rolled it, as they might a long barrel back to its box. Then they drove it, tail first, into an opening, as if it had been a corkscrew. It had relaxed yesterday and looked just like any other python 320 feet long.
